IBM Impact Grant Portals

Data Privacy Notice

Your privacy is top priority.

At IBM we recognize the importance of protecting your personal information and are committed to processing it responsibly and in compliance with applicable data protection laws in all countries in which IBM operates.

The IBM Impact Grant portals process data according to the IBM Corporate Privacy Rules. To read the full IBM Privacy Statement, please visit https://www.ibm.com/privacy.

IBM has engaged a third-party service provider, Benevity, to provide the IBM Impact Grant Portals on our behalf. For information about Benevity's privacy practices, please see their privacy policy.

What data do we collect?

The IBM Impact Grant portals capture and process data pertaining to applications for grants and IBM Impact programs. In the IBM Impact Grant portals, we will collect personal information (PI) about your organization including primary contact name, job title, and email; authorized signer name, job title, and email; and board member information.

What is collected data used for?

We collect organization primary contact details so we can update you on the status of your application and, when necessary, to request additional application information.

We collect authorized signer details so we can send compliance forms, and grant and program agreement documents for electronic signature.

We collect board member information to assist in our organization vetting process, which allows us to evaluate your organization's eligibility for grants and programs.
